MESSAGE FROM JERI

Dear UCI Retirees, Emeriti-ae, Spouses, and friends:

UCI Retirees and Emeriti continue to help students!

Although the UCI Center for Emeriti & Retirees (CER) does not fundraise, we do assist the UCI Emeriti Association (UCIEA) and the UCI Retirees Association (UCIRA) with their scholarship efforts. Thank you if you were able to donate this past UCI Giving Day or if you contributed during the January annual dues efforts.

With your generosity, ~$10,000 was raised to help UCI Students with their education goals.

Cheers!

Jeri I. Frederick, Director

CONGRATULATIONS!

Congratulations are also in order for three retired professors, who have recently received awards for their continuing contributions in retirement:

Raul Fernandez, UCI Chicano/Latino studies professor emeritus, has been awarded the 2022-23 Constantine Panunzio

Professor Emerita Sally Stein and Professor Emerita Margaret Miles were awarded the 2022 Edward A. Dickson Professorship Award. This award honors their ongoing efforts in teaching, research, or public service.

Distinguished Emeriti Award. The honor recognizes one to two outstanding UC faculty each year in the humanities and/or social sciences for research and scholarly activities since retirement.

THE BIG PLAN

C. MICHAEL STOCKSTILL AND H. PIKE OLIVER

Tuesday, May 9 - Transforming the Irvine Ranch: Joan Irvine, William Pereira, Ray Watson and the Big Plan

Time: 2:00 - 3:30 p.m.

Location: Newkirk Alumni Center, Entry Level Conference Room (in-person presentation)

Our presenter is Mike Stockstill, one of the authors and UCI Alumnus. This new book chronicles the transformation of the Irvine Ranch in Orange County from a farming empire into a New Town.

Covering a critical three decades in the California ranch's 146-year history, the book highlights elements of corporate intrigue, family disputes, planning theory and execution, and extraordinary stories of personal achievement. Click here to read the press release.

INTRODUCING THE LIFE RESOURCES PROGRAM

Life is busy and full of unplanned challenges. UCI is proud to introduce the Life Resources Program to help our emeriti and retirees and their families manage many of life's demands.

Administered by ComPsych® GuidanceResources, the Life Resources Program can help you and your family with both personal and other concerns by providing confidential counseling, advising and concierge services that include:

- Emotional Support
 - for marital, relationship, family, anxiety, depression, grief, substance abuse counseling and more.
- Work-Life Solutions
 - for resources for child and elder care, moving, college planning, home repair, car buying, event planning, home buying and more.
- Legal Guidance
 - for divorce, custody, adoption, real estate, debt, bankruptcy, landlord/tenant, civil, criminal and more.
- Financial Resources
 - for planning a budget, debt management, tax issues, referrals to CPAs, Certified Financial Planners and more.

You and your family members are automatically eligible for this program. No program enrollment or registration is required. The next time you or a family member faces an unexpected life challenge, we encourage you to take advantage of this free and confidential service.

Learn more at liferesources.uci.edu or by calling 844.824.3273 (24 hours a day, seven days a week.)
